Cherished Dealers and Customers,

Over the years, CMT has continued to channel significant resources into research and development with the intent to provide optimum quality cutting products.

This has solidified a special position in the marketplace in which the names CMT Orange Tools, CMT and the reference color orange, are synonymous with excellent quality, undisputed reliability and exceptional performance. We thank you for continuing to support our Orange Tools.

As time passes, steady market globalization has coincidentally increased the risk that CMT customers when purchasing on web platforms in good faith, may in fact encounter bogus versions of Orange Tools products. Instances in which the client may be misled or cajoled into buying saw blade or router bit products similar in appearance and mimicking the appearance of CMT products has become far too common.

We encourage everyone that when in doubt, not to hesitate to contact genuine@cmtorangetools.com, in order to verify that what you are purchasing is indeed an original CMT Orange Tools product.

We would appreciate your prompt assistance in reporting to us evidence of product confusion you may come across in-store and/or communicate any complaints or grievances brought forward by customers and colleagues.

With appreciation,

Marcello Tommassini
